

Take Away

You're standing on the edge of reason
Insecure about the things you feel
'Cause everywhere's potential danger
It threatens you but it is so unreal

*All you got to do is
Take away take away the fear
All you got to do is
Take away take away the Fear*

Looking back over your shoulder
Convinced you're stalked by a creep
Everytime you fall into an abyss
In fact you only fall asleep

Just consider the fact that it's only in your mind
That it grabs you by the neck and surely makes you blind
Try to relax don't hesitate without a doubt So focus on your breathing in and out and in and out and in and OUT!!

When every crossroad means disaster
All hope will vanish in thin air
And little things keep crawling up your body
The bats keep flying in your hair
